| Compared to competitors in its field, the idea is clearly different, better, or will cost far less | 10 | 6 | I think the idea is generally good, but there are already a number of products available that provide similar services just not in a bundle. In particular, OCR scanning services, I believe too which can scan, categorize and sometimes interpret handwriting. I don't believe any are doing this as a bundle or marketing to this group of people so it's certainly worth pursuing. The key will be to continue to modify your product to more distinctly meet the needs of your niche market. | |

| The commercialization strategy is logical and feasible. | 5 | 3 | What seemed to be the most unfeasible was the price. If I'm the superintendant and this product is offered at the current price, then I'm looking for other options. The timeline seems well thought out and feasible. I would be interested to hear more specifics about your initial customers. |

| Additional Comments | | | It seems that the company has not fully developed its business model. Having a way to develop capital infusions, since this is a for-profit company, would seem to be advantageous. Business plan does not appear to match the target market. Many of the processes the company says it wants to do are available in other apps. Perhaps the company's advantage is that it is combining processes. On page 5 of 10 the company talks about the app having audio capability for 80 languages. Further down on the page it says the app will translate 75 languages. Earlier in the proposal it says the app can handle 85 dialects. Theoretically, these all could be true because of the wording, but I think that the author(s) may have made a mistake when talking about the various numbers. Figure 3 talks about the number of ESE students. I believe given the business model the company should talk about eligible schools. The company's Development Timeline is aggressive given the fact that it is going to require substantial funding it does not have. Funding for web development seems low. |

| Compared to competitors in its field, the idea is clearly different, better, or will cost far less | 10 | 4 | By the company's own admission, there is a free version available in the marketplace today. The functionality enhancements may be better for the new offering, but schools with dwindling budgets probably will not shell out $130,000 a year for a "better" version than what is out there for free. | |
| The problem to be solved is significant in terms of the number of people affected and the quality of the benefit produced | 10 | 7 | The number of children with learning disabilities is staggering. The idea to address this issue is sound, but penetrating the market will be very difficult. | |

| $15,000 will make a substantial difference to the project. | 10 | 4 | The funds requested make up less than 1% of total funding sought for the project. I am not sure that website re-design and website/social media re-launch are the best use of LCRDA funds. |
| Local publicity will help the company significantly. | 5 | 2 | Local publicity would help bring exposure to the company, but I am not sure it would be significant |
